RTO # 31117

Australasian Institute of Body-Mind Analysis and Psychosomatic Therapy

Welcome to our Institute of Psychosomatic Therapy

The purpose of our Institute is to provide essential tools which enhance the quality of life in our society today. We now realise that we are active psychosomatic co-creators of our health issues and are participating creators of all that happens within us.

We are in the midst of a paradigm shift of consciousness. The attitude that health is purely maintained by developments in the field of scientific and medical research and its application to cure disease is shifting. We now realise that we are active psychosomatic co-creators of our health issues and are participating creators of all that happens within us.

The rapid development of quantum physics has caught up with the field of medicine and is changing world views on the infinite possibilities of creation.

Human beings resist change; however the metamorphic process of life cannot be stopped. Even medical research in behavioural medicine admits that resistance to change commences the biochemical/psychosomatic process of fatal diseases.

I have developed this program of therapeutic psychosomatic behaviour over many years of study and participation in human relations, for anyone who chooses to accept that the freedom to change is our birthright.

To 'Breakthrough' the fear of change into the unknown, we provide the appropriate approach, environment and methodology. Psychosomatic Therapy nurtures and sustains a life that has desired the acceptance, understanding and respect of others in life.

To maximise the effects of this process and build the behavioural changes desired, it is recommended that the first ten days of this program be considered as an essential opportunity for the desired changes in life to be well absorbed and maintained.

I am pleased to present a training that is constantly developing and growing to claim its rightful place on the leading edge of Natural Therapies being presented today.

Australasian Institute of Body-Mind Analysis and Psychosomatic Therapy

Experience the expanding field of Psychosomatic Therapy; the health science of the future.

The Australasian Institute of Body-Mind Analysis and Psychosomatic Therapy (AIBMAPT) is a registered training organisation (RTO) at 14 Billabirra Crescent, Nerang, Queensland, Australia. Located in a natural, peaceful environment, students and other participants may enjoy its tranquil surroundings. Hermann Müller, the Founder and Director of the Institute, is dedicated to ensuring you receive training to the highest possible standard.

The Australian Qualifications Framework supports the application of the growth and research by AIBMAPT in the field of Psychosomatic Therapy. With its continuous improvement in the high standards, scope and viability of its applications as a therapy and lifestyle consultation, the Institute is having a radical impact on our society, in real terms, in the areas of improved mental, emotional and physical health.

The training is designed to create a successful career as a Psychosomatic Therapist, enhance your practice and complements all other modalities of natural therapies. It is the study of life itself. It supports and widens our awareness and understanding of how human experiences can create diseases and disorders in the body.

The core purpose of this training is to improve your own personal lifestyle and relationships with your family and in the community. You learn to release the dynamic qualities that bring passion and success into your life, professionally and personally.

Whatever you do for yourself is yours for life. The basic principles of Psychosomatic Therapy is self improvement, self empowerment and self worth for the fuller expression of your body, mind and soul. Each person has this same responsibility.

As we believe ('be' - 'live') this truth and teach by example others may learn to do the same. This will make a difference in our world and bring greater peace and harmony within.

PHILOSOPHY

- To reclaim our birthright, to live our individuality, freedom, health and wellbeing!
- To provide this opportunity to every individual in every family, society and globally.
- To train highly skilled therapists and teachers so others may benefit from a healthy lifestyle.
- To further develop the national and international recognition of Psychosomatic Therapy.

MISSION STATEMENT

The AIBMAPT has been established to:-

- Provide you with the highest quality of training and assessment, assist you to achieve your goals and further your health science career in the field of Natural Therapy.
- Integrate the Body, Mind and Soul in a harmonious expression of your potential characteristics.
- Provide a therapeutic practice in human behaviour available to you and others in every aspect of life.
- Create a focus on mental, emotional and physical balance that results in improved health, relationships, social attitudes, workplace performance and peace of mind, individually and collectively.

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

As the founder and director of the Australasian Institute, Hermann Müller has developed this training over a combination of a lifetime of experiential study, and many hours of deep understanding and research into human behaviour, globally. The outcome is a powerful life changing therapeutic process that ensures change occurs through practical experience, in a compassionate and supportive environment.

Hermann is a world leader in the field of psychosomatic medicine. He is transforming our understanding of health through studying the psychosomatic messages of the body-mind and teaches us ways we can care for ourselves. Quantum physicists are proving this mind-body connection to be the leading health science at this time. He describes his work as: “Weaving the Body-Mind with Spirit - tracing the silken threads, so delicately woven, that create the mosaic designs on the fabric of life”.

A master trainer in Psychosomatic Therapy, Hermann has qualifications and professional experience in various fields including management, intellectual health, natural therapies and esoteric science. He blends the experiences he has gained in different religions, cultures and countries, creating a matrix of opportunities to enhance individual, personal and professional expertise. He incorporates his vast wisdom into simple practices for use in daily life.

“The turning point in my life came for me during the 8 years I worked in a training centre for the intellectually handicapped. I witnessed the life long internees, who had experienced years of psychiatric hospitals, heavy sedation, physical restraint, incontinence, physical and mental impediments, being given a new lease on life by a dramatic change of approach in mental health care. With the introduction of special care and attention, normalised home living conditions, special needs therapists and parental care, I saw a miracle unfolding before my eyes. What love, compassion, patience, in a safe environment, with the new sensory stimulation of behavioural training was creating, was so thrilling for me to participate in. The quality of the patients lives changed so profoundly!

I stopped to look inside myself and comprehend what was occurring! Billions of molecular reactions and new neural pathways created amazing new behaviour and lifestyle experiences that were so stunning to see in these childrens lives! Since that was possible for them, imagine the unlimited possibilities that are available to all of us! The experiences of this psychosomatic journey, with body, mind and spirit as one, creates a passion for life and the opportunities for the changes we choose to manifest.

I welcome you to join us on this journey towards the actual participation in improving the healthy lifestyle for all humanity.” Hermann Müller

WHAT IS BODY-MIND ANALYSIS AND PSYCHOSOMATIC THERAPY?

Medical science has taken quantum steps to eliminate disease from our lives and prevent further diseases. Psychosomatic Therapy and Body-Mind Analysis seeks to bring our awareness to those areas of the Body-Mind where we can eliminate the stress, tension and psychosomatic discomfort before they become disease and also assist medical science in its process of cure by eliminating the source.

Psychosomatic Therapy is the process between the psyche (mind) and soma (the body) that we live in. Body-mind communication exists within us every moment of our life, inside us and our awareness of our reactions outside us. This results in behaviours and attitudes through a lifetime of experience and our interaction with others. The cellular memory created within the body internally, effects the mental, emotional and physical structure of the body formation and its actions and reactions, externally.

The release of past redundant and restrictive patterns held in the physical structure by cellular memory in body tissue are replaced by correcting posture, improving body condition, physical shape and the desired psychological attitudes, through experiential practice.

The three keys to the Psychosomatic process are focus, balance and structure. These three keys are the cornerstone of life itself. Each psychosomatic process creates an atmosphere of centering the mind and bringing balance in behaviour which results in improved performance, self confidence and stability.

Through this process the relationship between the language of the body-mind becomes revealed. This ‘language’ through body chemistry, recognises no nationality or doctrine. The soul seeks only to awaken within the human body, feelings of love, compassion and understanding to be experienced as a good healthy life.

PSCHO1A Orientation to Psychosomatic Assessment - 1 day Psychosomatic Breakthrough!

Introduction and course overview of objective and goals

Our physical condition is the collective cellular memory of how we have weathered life's experiences. The mental and emotional attitude that effects body functions is obvious in the shape, structure and performance of our vehicle of life.

In this introductory day of training you will learn:

- * The Evolution of Body-Mind Medicine ... understanding our own body-mind.
- * The Role of Psychosomatic Therapy ... the new paradigm.
- * What is Psychosomatic Therapy and body-mind consciousness?
- * Psychosomatic Principles ... the three keys to success!
- * The Magic of Body-Mind Communication - 'Why am I in the Shape I am in?' ... a few words of understanding

As we heal our inner world, we heal the world outside.

HLTCOM404B Communicate effectively with clients is integrated in all units.

PSCHO2A The Art of Reading Faces - 1 day The face is the autobiography of life!
Conduct and perform analysis of personality potential characteristics in the face.

Change your world by learning to understand the unique characteristics of yourself and each person you meet - interact with others with integrity, understanding and kindness.

Notice how fascinating people really are. Look with innocence into the eyes of each soul with patience and kindness in your heart. Let your light shine through your eyes using your inner sense.

- * Discover your true potential!
- * Communication is the key: come face to face with facts!
- * How we face the world and project our profile!
- * The three zones and left right separations display unique characteristics.
- * Overall shape, size, balance, energy flow, designed by sacred geometry and genetics.
- * Each energy centre is represented in the face with their interaction and performance.
- * A focussed recognition of these unique characteristics of the individual parts of the face, build a fascinating evaluation of the person.
- * Focus and unwavering eye contact is the first step in Psychosomatic Therapy.
- * Systematic documentation and evaluation reports of your subject is the second step.
- * Gentleness, kindness, close contact for complete attention is the therapeutic step.

From the moment of birth till the very end of life every human being yearns for worthiness, attention, safety and love from the heart. This is Psychosomatic Therapy!

Every part of our body is etched in the face.

PSCHO3A Body-Mind Analysis - 2 days Focus ~ Balance ~ Structure creates Performance!
Conduct and perform analysis of personality potential characteristics in the body and mind

The Centre Core energy (Psyche - Spirit) and the response of the outer sheath (body) is the core element in Psychosomatic Therapy. This is where major changes occur!

- * Learn simple techniques to let go of the past and learn to live in the present.
- * Experience self awareness, confidence and self image and self esteem.
- * Restore posture and balance for enhanced performance.
- * How does physiological structure determine health and fitness?
- * Body-Mind Analysis is a diagnostic tool for the study of the issues in the tissues in each chakra area or energy centre in the Body-Mind.
- * Study the degree of self awareness, the condition and function of the physical body.
- * Identify and eliminate discomfort, stress and 'dis-ease' by recognising the quality and quantity of flesh and muscle tone that indicate the psychosomatic conditions and the source of its creation.
- * Bone structure, the height, width and depth of the various areas all tell a story about the growth and maturity.

Create a healthy body that can fulfill the Soul's purpose!

PSCHO3A Limbs, Joints and Feet - 1 day The Human body is the Tree of Life!
Conduct and perform analysis of personality potential characteristics in the body and mind (continued)

The arms branch out and express the creativity from the heart.
The legs support the carriage and pump the stream of life through the trunk.
The joints are points of decision-making, they act and react as the mind directs.
The feet connect the Body-Mind and Soul to the earth through the soles of the Soul.

- * Did you know that your body is also represented in the feet. The healthy function of your metabolism is dependant on how walk, move and breathe?
- * Are you aware that the skeletal structure provides the field of infinite possibilities.
- * Realise that mental focus of the whole Body-Mind, its structure and performance is dependant on the balance and support of the limbs, their rhythm and coordination.

Discover the source of life that exists in the stem cells that carry the blueprint of your soul's purpose in the marrow of your bones!

The Tree of Life
The trunk, fruit, branches & roots

PSCHO4A The Language of the Hands - 1 day You hold the world in the palm of your hands!
Conduct and perform analysis of personality potential characteristics in the hand

Every sensory part of our body is re-presented in our hands. These delicate creative instruments are thinking, feeling extensions of heart centre, measuring and evaluating shape, dimension and balance between our inner and outer world with love, warmth, and caring.

- * The hands are powerful sensory communicators of our body's internal language.
- * Experience how the shape, length, thickness and flexibility tell stories of their own as the digits of the fingers evaluate, shape, hold, release and react to the internal feelings of the body, mind and spirit!
- * Our finger prints are a unique expression of our individuality and degree of sensitivity.

Learn to touch yourself and others with loving heartfelt gentleness and compassion.

PSCHO5A Emotional Anatomy - 2 days The cornerstone of human experience!
Conduct and Perform analysis of emotional characteristics. Identify and perform emotional release body work.

Anatomical structure is the basic archetype of thought and experience.

Emotional anatomy creates physiology.

Structure supports psychological function. External reactions get internalised.

External human relationships express what is inside of us.

This becomes our behavior and attitude in life; habits run automatically!

- * Study the four basic archetypes, their structure, shape and their psychosomatic issues.
- * Use your psychosomatic training for treatment and clinical direction.
- * Experience the results of how emotional trigger points at the origin and insertion of muscles, release the redundant tension of cellular memory.
- * Open the door for energy to flow into new behaviour.
- * Analyse and document the history of your client. Align yourself and your client.
- * Fine tune your work to recognise the subtle messages of the body. Profound and empowering changes occur during and after a session of 'Emotional Release Body Work'. The client's level of self awareness and confidence changes before your eyes.
- * Notice how the Neuro Linguistic Programming of old core belief patterns are released from the cellular memory held in the tissues and posture of the body.
- * Experience the freedom to express your soul's true potential and its lifes purpose.

Combine your understanding of Psychosomatic Therapy and Quantum Physics.

Emotional release alignment

Emotional release trigger points

PSCHO6A Cert III Practitioner Training Procedures - 2 days Clients & psychosomatic related diseases!
Promote and perform specific psychosomatic assessment. Provide psychosomatic consultation.

Experience and practice ways to :-
